TEN CENTS

Two Killed, Three Hurt in Crashes For Magic Valley

Two Magic Valley residents were killed and three others were injured in two separate accidents over the week-end, raising the Magic Valley traffic fatality total to nine as compared to seven at the same time last year. Mrs. Anna Hansen, 72, Jerome, was killed Sunday afternoon in a collision at the intersection of highway 25 and the Hagerman-Wendell highway just west of Wendell. Artie R. Tyler, 27, Declo, died of injuries early Monday morning when the pickup truck he was driving ran into a parked truck on Main Street in Burley.

Injured in the Wendell accident and reported to hospital, along with the hospital's hospital guest, are Mrs. Theresa Larsen, 25, Jerome, and Samuel Hansen, 21, Jerome, the dead woman's husband. Lee Carlson, 21, a passenger in the Tyler truck, was also injured and reported "in good condition" at Cassia Memorial hospital, Burley.

Mrs. Mr. Hansen and Mrs. Larsen were driving in a 1951 Mercury driven by Mike Swanson, 24, Jerome, who collided with Shirley Miller, 21, Hagerman, a passenger in the Graves car, was injured slightly but was treated by a Wendell physician. She received cuts and bruises.

Gooding county Deputy Sheriff Bill Bunn, Wendell, said investigation is continuing. Bunn added that Swanson said he did not see the Graves car. Both men were driving eastbound on Hwy. 25 when they met.

Mr. Tyler died of injuries on the way to Cassia Memorial hospital. His 1957 Chevrolet pickup truck struck the rear end of a parked 1960 Kenworth semi truck on Hwy. 25 about 10 miles west of Wendell, just west of the edge of Burley.

Burley Policeman Rex Wood said the pickup truck was travel-

IEA Plans Survey To Push Sales Tax

BOISE, March 25 (AP)—The Idaho Education association set to work today to put into practical plans for a campaign to convince school trustees and local tax payers that they should provide more money to increase teacher salaries. A poll of the membership is planned to see if the teachers are willing to referendum. The legislature made possible increased local school support by lifting the 30-mill tax limit. It requires a two-thirds vote of the property taxpayers, however.

IEA executive secretary, George Clegg, taking leave of a while, said, "I think it's now Tuesday noon in the American Legion hall.

Sen. George Blick, Rep. William Landis and Rep. Jim D. Glabren, all of Twin Falls, were meeting to answer questions and discuss legislation items of interest in this area.

David Mead, legislative chairman of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, was invited to the state capital to attend the Tuesday noon meeting. "There has been some misunderstanding that these associations do not support the Chamber of Commerce," said Mead. "That is not true. The legislative committee has been most anxious to bring the problem of the state to a meeting a cross section of the community as possible," Mead said.

He added that despite the failure of the legislature to enact some of the bills, the legislative group here had encouraged it. "It was not the fault of the Twin Falls county delegates, who were weekly in the meetings which were before the session and who voted in accordance with the views of their constituents."

These planning to attend the Tuesday luncheon are urged to phone the Chamber of Commerce, 733-3974. Adequate meal preparation can be made.

Vandalism at New Junior High School Over Week-End Is Probed by Police

Twin Falls police were investigating Monday morning the results of vandalism over the weekend at Robert Stuart Junior High School.

It was reported early Saturday morning that a large metal door lockers on the building, which were recently installed on the exterior of the new school, and its source was not known.

The vandalism occurred sometime between Saturday noon when construction workers left the site, and Monday morning, when they returned to work.

The amount of damage had not been determined by Monday noon.

Dupl. Ernest Hagland reported Monday afternoon there were no damages to the school.

Wednesday night at the new school, and its source was not known.

Missing Airplane Is Still Sought

POCATELLO, March 25 (AP) — An intensive air-ground search resumed this morning for the second of two airplanes believed crashed during a snowstorm Saturday night. A twin-engined craft, piloted by Wayne Carter, Pocatello, was still missing today. State Aerodynamics Administrator Chet Moulton, Boise, said 20 to 25 planes were looking over an area between Pocatello and Malad. One of the planes was found Sunday morning. Its two occupants, Allen J. Manning, 39, and Wayne Koch, 31, were both dead. Manning was president of Airways, Inc., a private airline.

Both planes were operated by Airways and had ferried eight passengers to Salt Lake City Saturday night. Moulton said the search was being concentrated on the 30 to 40 miles south of Pocatello.

Carter last contacted the Pocatello airport by radio at 10:02 p.m. Saturday. Control tower officials said he radioed he was "on the ground" and was returning to Pocatello.

The "sonic boom" rang through the stadium like an explosion, witnesses said. Mattenberger, who was walking away from the scene, became frightened and breathing with difficulty, was taken to a hospital, where he died a few hours later.

A few large shop windows in downtown Basel were shattered by the "boom."

"Boom" Kills

MABEL, Switzerland, March 25 (UPI) — A jet fighter broke the sound barrier today and scared Jakob Mattenberger to death.

Mattenberger, 36, had a fatal heart attack when an unidentified jet fighter flew low over a soccer stadium.

LOS ANGELES, March 25 (UPI) — Davey Moore, a colorful ring champion for nearly four years, took top of infinity record in the fight, but lost his title when he cost him his world featherweight title.

Moore lapsed into a coma shortly after his bout with Sugar Ray Leonard and never regained consciousness.

Moore's wife, 26, had maintained a bedside vigil in the hospital since the time she had been married to the boxer, staying in a nearby room when death came at 2:20 a.m.

A hospital bulletin said only doctors and nurses were present when Moore was pronounced brain dead.

Ironically, Moore, 26, gave up his title and his life—in the city of his greatest triumph. It was Moore who won the title in 1965, defeating Sugar Ray Leonard.

Moore, a boxer for Nigeria in 1958, Sunday, Pope John XXIII called the sport of boxing barbaric and condemned it.

As Lenten services declared, "Christ engaged in neither boxing nor politics."

Crash Reported

Twin Falls police investigated a two-car accident at 1:15 p.m. Sunday in the 800 block of Mayburn avenue.

A 1960 Cadillac driven by Mrs. Myra C. (Perry) Gooding, 200 Lincoln street, collided with a Chevrolet stationwagon driven by Mrs. Dorothy C. Warters, 42, 1/2, Twin Falls.

Warters was taken to the hospital with a sprained neck and a dislocated shoulder. Her driver's license was suspended for six months.

Weather, Temperatures

MAGIE VALLEY—Fair and warmer through Tuesday. Outlook for Wednesday partly cloudy with little change in temperatures. Highs Tuesday in mid-50's after low of 45 to 52—except Camas Prairie, mid-50's and 60's. At 10 a.m. Saturday, stations with humidity of 50 percent; at 20 at Fairfield, 24 at Shelley, 26 at Buhl and 28 at Castleford; at noon, 58 with 22 per cent humidity; experiment station and 59 with 22 per cent humidity. Experiment station at 10 a.m. Saturday, 60 at Buhl; 45 at Castleford; 44 at eight inches, 45 at experiment station, and at 10 inches, 41 at experiment station.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

The cold front moving across the area Sunday has moved eastward with light rain replaced by warmer, more stable air. Large amounts of sunshine through Tuesday will cause temperatures to climb into the 50's and 60's Monday and into the 60's and 70's Tuesday.

High pressure is firmly entrenched again over the Intermountain West. A low pressure center both at the surface and aloft is located in the central Pacific but is making little eastward progress. With storm movements out of this system at a minimum, generally fair weather can be expected for the next two or three days. Winds are expected to be moderate, light winds, dry conditions.

Soil temperatures will resume their annual rise through the first part of the week.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

The forecast five-day period indicates that a trough of low pressure will be located off the West Coast in the eastern Pacific. Predominately southwest flow will prevail over the Intermountain area during this five-day period.

Under the influence of this pattern, temperatures will average from 50 to 55 degrees above normal with scattered showers and cool, mid-week followed by some cooling.

Precipitation will be quite light, totaling 1/4 to 1/2 inch or less occurring as short, scattered showers.

Precipitation totals of 40 to 45 per cent of possible with daytime cloudiness averaging three to four-tenths coverage. Winds will average near normal most of this period increasing about Friday.

Temperatures will drop into the low to mid 50's by late Saturday.

The weather outlook for this week appears quite favorable for field work or all kinds with the only threat being a chance for showers toward the end of the week. Overall, the weather conditions will be more temperate, ranging above germination threshold levels.

Some sugar beet planting will be underway in Idaho valley due to most other southern Idaho locations best delay beet planting due to frost threat well into April.

Slide Lecture on Old Oregon Trail Planned for Tuesday

Presentation of a slide lecture detailing the old Oregon Trail from Kansas to near Boise will mark the first of several programs sponsored by the Twin Falls Juvenile School on juvenile delinquency and youthful crime, mainly at Idaho State College.

Thirty-four state, county and city officers from 21 counties attended the school. Professor Frank M. Ladd, of the University of Colorado, and Professor Frank M. Ladd, and Colorado taught classes which included factors in delinquency, how to interview juveniles, psychology, causes of delinquency, attitudes, and behavior of juveniles.

Twin Falls Police Chief Frank Barrett attended the graduation ceremony Friday at ISCC.

Parley Slated

SPIKEHORN, March 25—All interested persons in the county are invited to attend a meeting on mental health at 8 p.m. Thursday at the courtroom of Mrs. J. E. Murphy.

All organizations are urged to send representatives. It is hoped to organize a mental health association.

Mrs. Udel Robinson, this year's president, was named first vice-president; Mrs. Wendell Johnson, second vice president; Mrs. Ralph Riley, Jr., secretary, and Mrs. Harold Friedman, treasurer.

Other officers were Mrs. Friedman and Mrs. Ralph Riley, Jr., who was named to the building committee.

New officers will be installed at the April meeting.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, March 26—Born today, you will probably have to face as many "downs" in your life as you do "ups." Unlike many, however, who would soar into the up-buildings in one swoop, you are able to find excitement and all the challenge you need in both types of experience. Strength of character and innate good humor will always help you to meet such turns of events with grace, for you know that times of crises do not last forever.

TUESDAY, March 27—In you the spirit of giving is strong, so it is to create, and your joy. Whether you will or not, however, depends greatly upon your early environment and the type of training that is given you. In this case, such creativity can find an outlet in many places, though—even in business—so do not become dependent on one outlet.

WEDNESDAY, March 28—Despite your general acceptance of life as it is, you have an all-too-familiar desire to have life as you would wish. You are easily influenced by your elders; indeed, interference from others is one of the few things that can "set you off." It is best to remember this when looking for a mate, for a mate who would try to dominate—definitely not for you!

THURSDAY, March 29—Among those born on this date are: Mary Webb, English author; Béla Bartók, Hungarian composer; Guyon Borglum, sculptor; Henry II of England.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding horoscope. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

TUESDAY, March 28

ARIES (March 21-May 21)—Concentrate on past experiences and the lessons learned. Look for opportunities to present difficulties. Heart interest in evening.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Trivia has no place in this day.

SATURDAY, March 25

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)

—A wave of friendliness toward you and your well-being should be evident, and you may in return, feel more amiable in return. Aim to please!

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Long-term, well-aimed plans for the future are not enough. Begin now to work them into better living.

SUNA (Sept. 24-Oct. 22)—Be optimistic. You are due for a day with little or no disappointment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)—The new moon is April 1st. Plan your activities accordingly, but leave time for fun.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)—Let a third person—preferably a friend—take a look at your financial situation. Gain should be forthcoming.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20)—A good time for trying again after a recent setback. A mate who would try to dominate—definitely not for you!

Everybody's Money

BY MERRILE STANLEY

MURKEYER

Communications from readers express disappointment over the failure of the union to fulfill its promise to end the upset in the international balance of payments of the United States.

The pressure on the dollar

and the foreign demand for gold stem from the fact that more dollars are going out of the country than are coming in.

This takes place despite a very large surplus of U.S. exports of goods over imports.

Two suggestions can be made for coming to grips with this housing and distribution problem:

one, the issue is political, not economic. It springs from the exigencies of the cold war with the communists, which has resulted in huge expenditures for the maintenance of American economic and military aid to foreign nations.

Recently the growing prosperity of oil fields especially in the Commonwealth, India and Great Britain, has called for a demands for a redistribution of the NATO decision making authority. President De Gaulle has called for a reorganization of the alliance.

President De Gaulle has asked his voice and those have been other suggestions that the status of the alliance has changed since

May 1962 when it was called into existence.

In recognizing the change,

U. S. policymakers should guard it as a fortuitous opportunity to correct the international balance of payment problem.

It is the growing greater discrepancy in political power that there should be an arangement that the new by strengthened nations should be less "financially" dependent on the U. S. and should undertake to pick up a larger share of the tab growing out of the common defense.

A second non-trade influence on the international balance of payments is the huge aggregate of private expenditure abroad of U. S. citizens traveling telling freedom to travel in order to help the balance of payments situation; it would be desirable to find alternative adjustments.

The United States government should consider certain credit limits which have received U. S.

advances and these take the form of so-called counterpart funds in foreign currencies.

Finally, the dollar pressure on the dollar would tend to work out arrangements whereby these foreign exchange funds could be expended in the debtor country by American tourists and the like, to the benefit of the U. S. government with dollars.

There will unquestionably be re-istance abated to this proposal, but it should be pressed nevertheless to the point, which counterpart funds have been available primarily for expenditure chargeable to the U. S.

government directly, including traveling abroad by congressmen.

Q. A reader in Hurting Woods, to retain as much of current income as possible for future use

News Around Idaho

POCATELLO, March 23—(UPI)—Management of the local Ford Motor Co. here has rejected a labor contract proposal by a rate of 182-4. Bill McNaugh, business agent for IBEW, and Lou Combe, industrial relations director for FMC, indicated negotiations would continue. Monday afternoon, the contract rejection came late in the day after a two-hour meeting. No further extensive negotiations, Friday, started between the company and union and got under way Feb. 1. The contract expires April 1.

POCATELLO, March 23—(UPI)—Voters in Pocatello go to the polls Saturday, at which time they will be voting on the flood-prone Payette river, the other to change the city's form of government. The flood control program hinges on $850,000 bond issue. This has been broken down into three separate proposals for the voters—$219,250 for storm sewer, $170,000 for bridge, and $460,750 for a mayor-council form of government. The voters will choose three choices. They can retain the present manager-commission form; revert to the mayor-council form, or adopt a mayor-municipal council structure known as the "Berkley system." If none obtains a majority, the existing form will remain. The bond issue has flooded in Pocatello the last two years, causing considerable damage both times. If the voters approve the bond issue, the way would be clear for widening, straightening and deepening the Payette by the army corps of engineers. The cost would be cut between one and two million dollars with the federal government paying everything but the amount to be voted on by the voters.

BOISE, March 23—(UPI)—The Idaho potato and onion commission has voted to increase the number of commissioners to five, instead of four, for appointment to the commission. The meeting will be held in Caldwell Tuesday evening and in Burley Thursday evening. From among the candidates chosen, Gov. Robert E. Smylie will choose three who will represent groups on the commission for the next three years. The other two commissioners will be appointed by the governor. W. L. Johnson, from the southwestern Idaho district, and W. B. Whitley, Oakley, and E. J. Morgan, Meridian, from the southcentral Idaho district.

A good mutual fund is advised, has more flexibility in changing to regular funds, but also with some of the no load funds operated as a sideline by investment counsel firms.

A request will be sent. The selection of a fund depends on the individual's needs.

In investing in insurance, care must be taken to make sure that a capital fund has been created, the need for life insurance probably will diminish. Likewise, without a pension, the individual should keep in touch with professional standing folks in retirement can live more easily.

As a means of increasing the portion of gross income available for living, the reader should consider giving up an outside office and instead create facilities for seeing patients in his home. This will tend to make tax deductible part of the cost of maintaining residence.

(Mr. Reuter, we are pleased to receive your letter concerning your financial situation. Please send us your financial records. Letters will be sent in care of the newspaper.)

There are varieties in the standard of living of retired couples. The reader does not give his age, which is an important key to the problem. The potential pension has 20 years more of life expectancy. It is necessary to forecast the cost of living in 1983. Instead of trying to fit such a prophecy on the nose, it would be more sensible to plan for a minimum of 10 percent increase in the cost of living annually, consisting of evidence of debt (bonds, mortgages and savings deposits) and equities (such as shares of stock and real estate), which would be hedged gains within the national economy during the next two decades.

Such a plan should include no less than 10 percent of the total assets, which would consist of mutual funds and common trust funds operated by banks and trust companies. It is suggested that the financial work out a program for systematic saving and investing, and defer personal capital a first charge on his budget. For the debt or bond portion, the doctor could consider buying joint and survivorship bonds issued by life insurance companies. For protection of his spouse, he should also carry life insurance to assure her a competency in the event of his failing to live long enough to fulfill his financial plan. There should also be major medical, hospitalization, malpractice and adequate property insurance.

A physician, being self em- ployed, has more flexibility in changing to regular funds, but also with some of the no load funds operated as a sideline by investment counsel firms.

A request will be sent. The selection of a fund depends on the individual's needs.

In investing in insurance, care must be taken to make sure that a capital fund has been created, the need for life insurance probably will diminish. Likewise, without a pension, the individual should keep in touch with professional standing folks in retirement can live more easily.

As a means of increasing the portion of gross income available for living, the reader should consider giving up an outside office and instead create facilities for seeing patients in his home. This will tend to make tax deductible part of the cost of living in 1983. Connie Vanek Weds Paskett In Burley Rite

BURLEY, March 25—Connie Vanek, daughter of Mrs. and Mr. Otto Vanek, recently became the bride of Deloy Paskett, Salt Lake City, in a double ring ceremony performed March 8. Paskett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin O. Paskett, Salt Lake.

The Rev. Warren Seehler officiated at the ceremony in the basement of the First Christian Church. The church was decorated with baskets of white and lavender chrysanthemums.

The bride was dressed in margarine. Her mother, who wore a silver satin gown with bodice overlay with long lily point sleeves and a ruffled belt at the waist, had her hair styled in a short bob. Her fingertip length nails were held by a crown of seed pearls and sequins. The bride's gown was fashioned by her mother.

She carried a bouquet of siephoniae with a lavender orchid.

Maid of honor was Trini Williamson. She wore a sleeveless gown of lavender alpaca, satin with a bell-shaped skirt and a rounded neckline. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Cheryl Ahs-craft, Thunia Anderson and Jeanne Johnson. The maid of honor slipped satin bodice and white bell-shaped skirts,

each carried a bouquet of launender chrysanthemums.

Robert Gee was best man. Jerry Paskett and Roy Vanek, twin brother of the bride, were usher and candlelighters.

Bills Louie Soffold sang "Because" and "The Lord Prayer."

Accompanied by Mrs. Charles

Graff.

Mrs. Vanek chose a floral yellow and beige silk sheath with beaded accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Paskett wore a blue and white printed afternoon dress.

At the reception, Susan, Groom and Cheryl Springer predealed

at the head table.

Waiters served the wedding cake.

Arranging gifts were Nancy Julls and Cheryl Springer. Reception assistants were Mrs.

Warren Seehler and Mrs. Lowell

Blum.

The bride wore a blue linen suit with white accessories for a trip to Salt Lake City.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Oakley High School and is employed at Wheeler Machine company, Salt Lake City.

Garden Club Sets Plans at Jerome Meeting

VERMONT, March 25—Jerome Garden Club will hold a flower show April 16 at the Masonic Temple.

The club will be assisted by the North Side Lumber company, H. W. Walling, North Side Lumber company, spoke to members about the show at the meeting.

Mrs. Nick Koch and Mrs. Fred Nelson arranged the program on roses. Mrs. Mary H. Mann said roses may be used for many purposes.

"Some varieties will reach a growth of eight feet in height and seven feet in width," she said. She reminded members to make holes deep enough to plant the rose bush to water, feed and spray roses.

Mrs. Buenos Callen presented a talk, "Our Favorite Worm." Mrs. Callen was the hostess for the April meeting.

Camp Mary Lois Has Study Meet

Camp Mary Lois, daughters of Utah Pioneers, met at the Y.M.C.A. Club for a "lesson in Pioneer Women Doctors," led by Mrs. Ethel Heuer.

Mrs. Josephine Billings conducted the session and read a history of her grandmother, Karen Marie Mortensen. She also read selections from the diary of Augie Mortensen, which she has on file in her mission in New York, 1886.

Mrs. Adolph Anderson gave the invocation.

Fresh artichokes stuffed with shrimp meat make a delicious luncheon dish. They can be served as main dinner course, too.

Shrimp-Stuffed Fresh Artichokes
4 artichokes
1 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
Boiling water to cover
Shrimp stuffing
1 inch boiling water in baking pan

1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
Wash artichokes, trim leaves, and pull-off the tough leaves at the base of artichoke and discard. Cut off the top third of each artichoke and remove by placing them upside down on a table and pressing ends firmly.

Dig out the center leaves and stuff each artichoke with a spoonful of shrimp meat.

Add 1/2 cup water to a double boiler and boil until water has been absorbed. Add 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs.

1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
1 egg, beaten

Break shrimp into small pieces and mix with remaining ingredients. Spoon into partially cooked artichokes. Brush artichokes generously with olive or salad oil.

Yield: Sufficient stuffing for 4 artichokes.

Turkey Stuffing
1 cup (4 oz. ounces) cooked deviled shrimp.
1/4 cup soft bread crumbs.
1/4 cup finely chopped onion.
1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
1 egg, beaten

Stuffing. Place in a 9x13-inch baking pan. Pour 1 inch boiling water over and 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice in the pan around the artichokes. Brush artichokes generously with olive or salad oil.
